In Mark Batterson's book, Soulprint, he told the story of Michelangelo who had a vision from God. He saw an eighteen foot piece of marble and called it the imagine del cuore, an image of the heart. He believed that the masterpiece was already inside the stone and dedicated the next four years of his life transforming that stone into the epic statue of David. Like Michelangelo, I have a vision and look forward to spending the next sixteen months sculpting myself into a minister whose work is encourage, restore and invigorate souls. God has been beautifully and painfully sculpting me to serve on higher ground for the past few years and I am ready to continue the process. My past mistakes have brought me closer to God and increased my capacity, patience and heart to serve others without judgment. Like David, I am radical, bold, action-oriented and after God's own heart. He has called me to be a great encourager of HIS people and to bring a radical approach to how we impact lives through ministry. In the spirit of God The Counselor, I would like integrate a systemic coaching approach to increasing the spiritual growth for all members. To achieve this, I need the proper structure, training, mentoring and continual development. The Ministers In Training Program at Word of Faith is that structure and I proudly yet humbly accept the call to learn, grow, and develop my ministry gifts to serve God's people in a radical way!
